

NextUp Now

Top 5 Reasons Colleges Struggle with NextUp Funding

California's NextUp program offers unprecedented opportunities to support current and former foster youth in higher education. Yet, many colleges continue to face persistent challenges nationwide:

1. Engaging commuter and online students.
2. Chronic understaffing and lack of dedicated time.
3. Unclear funding guidelines.
4. Limited outcome tracking.
5. Integration challenges.

Chancellor's Office Guidance

The CCCCO has been clear: colleges are expected to integrate NextUp services with existing foster youth programs, avoid duplicative processes, and strategically blend funding and staffing across programs (California Community Colleges Chancellor's Office & JBAY, 2023). In addition, colleges are encouraged to adopt vision-aligned reporting systems to move beyond compliance toward continuous program improvement (CCCCO, 2023).

Chancellor's Office

New View World Expertise Through Experience

New View World LLC authored the 'Releasing Bias for Compassionate Engagement Toolkit' for the Chancellor's Office and is a leader in trauma-informed training, EmpowerED student programs, and consulting that strengthens recruitment, engagement, retention, and measurable outcomes.

Take the Next Step Partner with New View World LLC

Take the Next Step: Don't let unspent funds, limited staffing, or integration hurdles hold your program back. Partner with New View World LLC to align with Chancellor's Office expectations and deliver measurable impact. Schedule your free consultation today to avoid pitfalls and achieve results.

